LONDON OFFICIALLY ADMITS REVERSES

Some Positions Re-Captured by Enemy, But None of Great Importance

According to the Bulgarian war office, the British have fallen back across the Struma river.

Also the British were forced to retire upon the western front. Using fresh troops, Von Hindenburg struck back at Field Marshal Haig's army opposite Arras, occupying some positions.

BRITISH RETIREMENT IS OFFICIALLY ADMITTED TODAY

(International News Service.)

London, June 18.—A retirement by the British from a few advanced positions on the Arras front was admitted by the war office today.

The main positions remained firmly in British hands. The Germans made violent counter attacks in an effort to recapture the hill east of Monchy, but were unable to secure their objective. The German thrusts were made following a severe bombardment.

However, the report that the entente powers would withdraw from Macedonia are contradicted by the forced abdication of King Constantine of Greece.

Britain Sides With Japan in Regard to Chinese Policy

(International News Service.)

Washington, June 18.—Great Britain's attitude towards this government's note to China advising her to compose her internal differences, is that London must take a slightly different viewpoint.

This was learned today when the state department, admitting the receipt of a reply to Secretary Lansing's request that England join the United States in a similar note to Peking, let it be known that press cables of several days ago concerning the British note were substantially correct.

The state department maintains that it considers the incident closed, and that it does not expect further action by Japan.

UNDERGROUND AMBULANCE STATIONS

Treating wounded French soldiers underground. This is but one of many similar dressing stations organized by the French Red Cross along the battle fronts. Located far underground, the doctors and injured are seldom the target for enemy shells. In the case of serious injury, the men are given temporary treatment in these subterranean hospitals and then removed to the hospitals in the rear as quickly as possible.

We Must Help The Red Cross!

A campaign to raise $100,000,000 in the nation and $20,000 in the Twin Cities for the American Red Cross was begun this morning. It must have help from the loyal American citizens if it succeeds. It must have help from you.

Campaign committees from both Albany and Decatur will canvass their respective cities all this week. The goal has been set at $10,000 in each of the cities.

When the call came for volunteers to the army and navy of the United States, the Twin Cities responded as they usually do. Their quota of men was soon filled, both for the national guard, the regular army, the navy and other branches of the service.

When the call came for men of military age to register there was no slackers and Morgan county registered 25 men more than the war department's estimate of what we should do.

When the call came for the Twin Cities to subscribe for the Liberty Loan there was no let-up in patriotic spirit. We put up $125,000 for the cause and out-did most cities of similar size in the South.

Now the call comes for aid to the Red Cross. It is the agency that carries medicines and medical supplies to our boys who are on the way to France, probably, by now, and to the millions who will go to "see this thing through." The Red Cross will furnish the nurses for our boys and the Red Cross will be the direct means of helping thousands of our boys back to life and health when the American troops become targets for the guns of the Hindenburg line.

We must help the Red Cross! "He who helps one of these helps three—himself, his suffering brother and his God."

President To Surpress Ship Board Friction

(International News Service.)

Washington, June 18.—The cost and a 10 per cent profit probably will have to be the final basis of settlement on the controversy on the cost of steel to be used by the proposed merchant fleet to be constructed by the United States.

It was understood today that the president is making a careful investigation of the friction between General Goethals and the federal shipping board, and he will take steps at once to restore harmony. Gen. Goethals today announced that the corporation was awarded contracts for ten cargo carrying steamers and 24 wooden hulls in addition to contracts previously announced.

(International News Service.)

Petrograd, June 18.—A wave of patriotism coupled with decisive action against the separate peace with Germany has followed the arrival here of the American mission headed by Elihu Root.

Two definite steps toward a continuation of the war until Germany is beaten are generally attributed to the influence exercised by the presence of the Americans in Petrograd.

They are: The flat rejection of all Germany's peace overtures and the German efforts to secure an armistice; the action of the Duma in voting an immediate offensive against the Austro-German army.

How long the Root mission will remain here is indefinite, but from the program mapped out the visit will be a lengthy one. Gen. Scott is keeping in close touch with War Minister Kerensky and other Russian military men.

Williams Enters Race For Sheriff; Many Others Will Ditto

Deputy Sheriff S. S. Williams, in an interview with a reporter today made the statement that he intended to make the race for sheriff of Morgan county in the next election.

"I have never before offered myself for office of any kind," said Mr. Williams, "but I have an inclination to offer myself as the next sheriff of this county and you may say I will be in the race."

Although the next election is more than a year away, it is understood that not less than a dozen men are considering running for sheriff and it is expected that within the next few days many announcements will be made.

TRAIN HITS AUTO AT ATHENS; THREE PERSONS INJURED

Miss Etta Smith Is Mangled, One Limb Being Cut Off

CAR WAS TORN INTO SPLINTERS

Party Was Returning From Church When Acci- dent Occurred at Crossing

Three persons were injured, two of them perhaps fatally, when the automobile of J. R. Smith was struck by a southbound Lewisburg & Northern passenger train at 12:02 o'clock yesterday afternoon, as the train pulled into the Athens station.

The injured are:

Miss Ethel Long, daughter of Geo. Long, wholesale grocer of Athens.

Miss Etta Smith and Leeman Smith, daughter and son respectively of J. R. Smith, Athens grocer, and Limestone county planter.

The two young women are about 17 years of age, and Leeman Smith is about 15.

The accident occurred as the car, driven by Leeman Smith, crossed the railroad track near the freight depot. The crossing is a dangerous one, as the track is obscured and it is impossible to see for any extended distance in either direction. The boy and the two young ladies had attended church, and were on their way home when the passenger train collided with the lighter vehicle, tore it into shreds and sped on for a block before the engineer could bring it to a halt. Young Smith stuck to his post, and when the steering gear finally came to a stop, after being separated from the remainder of the machine, he was still clinging to the wheel. The car was a complete wreck, being splintered into a hundred parts. One wheel had every spoke broken out.

A big crowd rapidly gathered, and friends came to the quick assistance of the injured. A hurry call for physicians was turned in, but Dr. Crutcher alone responded, the other doctors of Athens happening to be out of the city at the time. Leeman Smith was placed in the car of R. M. Rawls and hurried to a drug store. While dazed and his clothing almost stripped off, he did not seem to be seriously hurt although he complained of injuries to his head.

The two young ladies were removed to their homes. Miss Smith's limbs had been mangled beneath the wheels of the train, one being cut sharp off. Miss Long was also badly bruised, and it is feared was internally hurt. Miss Smith was later carried to Nashville for medical treatment.

CHANGE OF PLANS MAY HAVE SAVED MRS. COOK.

A change of plans may have saved the life of Mrs. John Cook, who was in Albany Sunday as the guest of Judge S. L. Cook, her father-in-law. Mrs. Cook had intended to return to Athens yesterday and to attend church with her sister, Miss Ethel Long, one of the victims of the accident. She decided at the last moment not to go. She received a telephone message yesterday afternoon advising her of the injury to her sister, and left on the next train for home.

PASSENGERS AIDED SUFFERERS; TWO WERE UNCONSCIOUS.

A graphic word picture of the accident was drawn by Mrs. Scott, of Atlanta, Tenn., who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Parker on Gordon Drive, and who was on the train that struck the auto. Mrs. Scott said the engineer of the train claimed the car ran into the engine and the accident (Continued on Page Two.)

GERMAN AGENTS ATTEMPT TO LOWER LIBERTY LOAN PRICE ON EXCHANGE

TREASURY DEPARTMENT IS BUSY LOOKING FOR MANIPULATORS IN FINANCIAL DISTRICTS OF THE UNITED STATES.

ALMOST THREE BILLION NOW

ADMINISTRATION NOW LAYS ITS PLANS FOR SELLING THE NEXT LOAN IN SEPTEMBER IN JUST TWO WEEKS.

(International News Service.)

Washington, June 18.—Every effort was being made by the treasury department today to complete the tabulation of subscriptions to the Liberty loan. It was hoped that the definite figures would be available not later than tomorrow.

It already is evident that the over-subscription will total at least $300,000,000. There is a distinct possibility that the $900,000,000 mark will be exceeded.

The spasmodic effort in certain circles to sell the forthcoming certificates short in an effort to depress the price below par failed at the outset. It is understood certain officials of the legal department of the treasury are seeking to learn whether this effort was not in part an effort to "play the German game" in the United States.

When the next loan is offered in September every effort will be made to float it in not to exceed two weeks, although a month will be set for the subscription limit. It is believed here by financiers and by officials generally by that time the Liberty Loan will be selling at a most attractive figure.

GERMAN BARBARISM;
THE AIR RAIDS.

As the Germans continue their air raids over London the wonder and amazement of the civilized world continues to grow. What is the object of these raids? Is the question asked more frequently than any other by the shocked peoples of neutral nations.

On the occasion of the last raid over London, the German war office tried blunderingly to make excuse for the barbarism which would have shamed the Barbary pirates of the eighteenth century. The war office at that time said that the raid was effective "over the fort of London." As every simpleton in Christendom knows, London is not and never has been a fortified city and can be considered in no sense a fort.

The last raid over London was highly "effective." It was very successful from the Teutonic viewpoint. It killed a hundred women and children and maimed and crippled more than 400 others. It brought the list of dead women and children in the nineteen similar air raids since 1915 to more than 600! It was very successful. One hundred little graves with the earth freshly scooped up around them in English cemeteries, and more than 400 new cots containing war little sufferers in English hospitals makes the air raid highly "successful." It is enough to make Beelzebub in his home in hell chuckle in high glee at the deeds of his side partner on earth, the kaiser.

The shocking side of the raid is thrown in sharp relief when it becomes known that a French aviator recently on his way to the Russian front flew entirely over the city of Berlin and did not drop a single bomb. It is just as easy for the allied aviators to drop bombs over Berlin as it is for German aviators to drop bombs over London. And yet for the sake of humanity and because the teachings of Christ still live in England and France, the allies have not bombarded the non-combatants of Berlin.

The raids over London have not effected any military advantage. They were apparently made by the Germans simply to spread terror. To the end of time the method in which Germany is conducting this war will stand out as the most brutal warfare in the history of the world. The German will be known as The Brute of the twentieth century.

We are fighting the German government, not the German people, as President Wilson has cleverly drawn the distinction, but one wonders, when these brutalities are carried on, what manner of people they are who will allow their military masters to carry on such hellish warfare. One wonders, after all, if the German people are the quiet and gentle burgers they are pictured in the story books. The hoodwinking of the German people will be one of the high crimes Emperor-Wilhelm II will have to answer for when he is called before the Great White Throne.

THE SOCIALIST "BAIT" WILL HARDLY APPEAL.

One of the peculiar weaknesses of the German intellect is its inability to credit enemies with possessing even a modicum of gray matter. The so-called "international" socialist conference at Stockholm is an evidence of this. At this gathering of the discontented, the loquacious, the long-haired, the truly patriotic and the out and out wild and woolly, a "peace" scheme will be proposed and has already been outlined in press dispatches passed by the German censor. The principal "term" for the cessation of warfare is that Germany shall be allowed to retain Alsace-Lorraine, and to further continue to exist as an armed threat against the stability of the governments of the world. Nothing would disarmament, although there is much talk of "no indemnities and no annexations."

Virtually, this conference is an exposition of German weakness and is Germany's tacit admission that it cannot win the war. It means, plainly interpreted, that the kaiser is willing to quit where he began, provided he is given time and opportunity to prepare for a renewal of the world struggle under more advantageous conditions. The Berlin foreign office could not afford to say that it was whipped; it chose the socialists as its spokesmen.

The socialist in the old world is a more potent factor than in the new. Over there he is a political influence, that holds the balance of power, the German socialist, it appears, is a German first and a socialist afterwards. His views of what terms for terminating the war are just as those of the kaiser, after the kaiser has found it expedient to treat with his foes. There is no broad-gauged socialism that cares only for the weal and welfare of mankind. This international pow wow is nothing more than an attempt on the part of the German socialists to convert the other socialists of the world to their way of thinking, in order that the Fatherland may directly profit.

It takes more tempting "bait" than this to fool the entente foreign offices. The scheme is so transparent, so weak and silly, so wasteful of time, that it is surprising that it should have ever been hatched. It reflects but little credit upon its authors.

If Uncle Sam wants to keep his soldiers sober, is it wiser to arrest the men who sell liquor to the man in uniform, or to prohibit the manufacture of liquor? Strange, but no one ever thought of arresting the distiller or the brewer.

The showing made by the Huntsville baseball team indicates that the manhood of the Madison county capital has gone to the front.

Sometimes it seems that the old adage should be revised and made to read: "Charity, ends at home."

Albany authorities have discovered that speeding can be made profitable as well as pleasant.

BILLY SUNDAY MAKES THREAT AGAINST DEVIL.

(International News Service.) New York, June 18.—"Let me know if the devil gets on his feet along Broadway again and I'll come back and knock him flat."

This was Billy Sunday's parting word today to a crowd of thousands that had gathered to bid the evangelist good-bye. Approximately 10,000 persons "hit the trail."

Chills and Fever Not Only Signs of Malaria

Throughout the South, the thought of chills and fever has been so constantly associated with malaria that many people think them the only sign of that disease.

But as a matter of fact, nearly everyone living in a southern climate is more or less affected with malaria, though comparatively few suffer with chills and fever.

Perhaps the most common symptom of malarial poisoning is that "all-in," listless, lifeless feeling. If you feel that way, especially at this time of the year, it will be well for you to take a few doses of Quinotone, a tonic prepared especially for the relief of malaria, and thus avoid the attack of chills and fever that might otherwise follow.

Quinotone is a pleasantly flavored, vegetable preparation. It contains no arsenic or quinine sulphate, nor is it necessary for you to take calomel or blue mass with it. Yet it is more prompt in effect than many remedies containing those drugs.

Many of your neighbors have taken it. They will tell you how good it is, how pleasantly it acts. It is guaranteed to please you or your money cheerfully refunded.

You can buy Quinotone in big 50-cent packages at Dillehay Brothers or other good drug stores.

NOTE.—Readers are advised to insist upon genuine Quinotone—then they'll know they are getting the best remedy for their malaria or chills and fever. (Adv.)

Praises Camp Life
at Ft. Oglethorpe

Lee Kracke, a young man of Hartselle, who enlisted in the regular army through the local recruiting station last April, passed through Decatur yesterday on his way to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., after a brief visit to Hartselle.

Mr. Kracke expressed himself as being well pleased with army life. Since enlisting he has seen service on the Mexican border, being transferred to Fort Oglethorpe about a month ago.

"There are about sixty thousand soldiers at Fort Oglethorpe now and they are all getting down to business," said Mr. Kracke. CRISIS IN SPAIN IS BELIEVED AVERTED

(International News Service.) Paris, June 18.—With the spirit of revolution seething in Spain, a movement has been started there to establish a republic, according to advices from Madrid today.

These stated that the monarchist-reformist party, headed by Senor Alvarez, has openly declared in favor of a republican form of government.

While present indications are that the Spanish crisis has been averted for the time being, the situation is still acute.

Deputies representing the republican-socialists, radicals and reformists held a meeting and decided upon a coalition. At the same time it was stated that an anti-monarchy manifesto would be issued.

A serious labor situation exists. In many sections of Spain industries are tied up by strikes. The food supply is very scarce and prices are exceedingly high.

FOOD CONTROL BILL IS TAKEN UP TODAY

(International News Service.) Washington, June 18.—Congress must pass food legislation by July 10 to protect the people of the United States from speculators.

This was the message sent to congress today by President Wilson in a letter to Congressman Borland.

"To protect the people against extortion" is the purpose of the food legislation urged by President Wilson, "and not to control the food of the country."

(International News Service.) Washington, June 18.—Both houses of congress today began the tremendous task of wresting control of the country's food supply from the speculator and putting it into the hands of the government to insure the nation and its allies against hunger while fighting Germany.

It had before it the Lever-Chamberlain food control bill, sponsored by the administration and backed by President Wilson personally, a measure regarded by many members as the most radical ever considered by an American congress.

We have one "Wood" Binder which we offer for $150.00.

Be sure you get in on some of these goods. They're awfully cheap at the price named.

We lost him somewhere on the trip and I didn't know what had become of him. This morning he came back and from the way he acted he was mighty glad he found his way home."

E. D. Selvin the Eminent English Magician, at Masonic Theatre Monday Night, June 18th.

AMUSEMENTS

SELVIN, MAGICIAN, PRESENTS REMARKABLE PERFORMANCE

Selvin, master magician, ably assisted by his company, was the leading attraction at the Lyric Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. The show as a whole, was one of the very best attractions of its kind ever seen here, and created profound astonishment. Such astounding and mystifying stunts were pulled off and in such rapid fire order as to leave the large audiences fairly gasping with astonishment and expectancy.

One of the best and most unique of the illusions was the canary bird trick. After giving the little songster to one of the audience to hold, it apparently vanished and re-appeared in an electric light bulb. Another highly sensational act was Selvin's escape from a burial casket borrowed for the occasion from the undertaking firm of Seagraves & Son. He was apparently locked in the casket, which was then placed within the box. The box was then securely locked and chained. A few seconds later the magician showed up among the audience. The casket was then opened and, of course, found to be empty, accentuating the fact that Selvin lacks a whole lot of being a dead one.

Selvin is indeed a past master in the art of illusion. The artistic and original staging is also deserving of mention.—Lebanon (Tenn.) Democrat.

Still A Champion

The HUPMOBILE is still master of the hills. Still the four-cylinder conqueror of sixes, eights, twelves and other fours. Sand and mud and rough going mean as little as ever to the prince of performers. The HUPMOBILE repair cost record will shrink even more during the coming season. One-half of HUPMOBILE sales—probably more—will still go to the loyal owners who will have no other car. Men who have owned higher priced cars will continue to buy 28.2 per cent. of the HUPMOBILE output. There will be 30,000, instead of 11,000, owners to rate the HUPMOBILE 99 per cent. efficient. No obligation to buy rests on you who investigate thoroughly—through the medium of our dealers—every HUPMOBILE claim. —Except the obligation to give yourself all the motor satisfaction your money can purchase.

Mrs. R. P. Baker Dies at Home in Decatur

Was One of City's Oldest and Most Beloved Residents.

Mrs. R. P. Baker, one of Decatur's oldest and best beloved residents, died at her home last night at the age of 76 years, after an illness of two months, the first in forty years. She was one of the city's land marks, and was widely known. A devout member of the Presbyterian church, she had lived a life of great usefulness and consecration, and her passing will bring sorrow to many friends.

Mrs. Baker is survived by three children, Thomas Baker, of Decatur; Mrs. R. Jackson, of Birmingham, and Mrs. Frank Gullih, of Minlon, Ga.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home at 107 Market street tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, with Rev. Wm. N. Sholl officiating. Interment at City cemetery.

In the passing away of Mrs. Robert P. Baker, Decatur loses its oldest and most beloved resident. Mrs. Baker has resided in one of the antebellum homes, the old McCartney hotel, where as a girl she attended the marriage of some of North Alabama's most distinguished people. She is the last member of the First Presbyterian church as it existed when the present congregation came in during and since the "boom." Modest and unassuming, the faithful friend, the devoted mother, her place will not be filled in the home, the church or civic life.

Her daughters, Ella (Mrs. J. S. Jackson of Birmingham), Margaret (Mrs. B. F. Gullih), Rev. B. F. Gullih of Lafayette, Ga.; a grand-daughter, Helen Hall; her devoted son, Thomas, who, with his wife, and little Frank, reside in the old home, were at her bedside in her last moments. Her husband, Hon. Robert P. Baker, a son Robert, Jr., a daughter, Elizabeth Mrs. Frank Hall died several years ago.

Mrs. Baker was born on Market street seventy-six years ago in October, and except four years spent in Huntsville while Mr. Baker was United States marshal, her whole life was spent in Decatur, where as mayor, her husband served the people a number of years of its most epoch making history.

Huntsville Outfield Snoozes on Job, While Y. M. C. A. Wallops Pill

Wagner Hurls Nifty Game, But Lacks Co-Operation of Team-Mates. Joe Norwood Stars Conspicuously in Local Garden

(By "Toddy.")

The third and last game of the series with Huntsville proved to be a regular jamboree for the Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon, when by combining a multiplicity of hits, luck and daring base-running, fourteen luscious tallies were piled up against the discomfited visitors' half dozen. Wagner, a new recruit, was sent to the front for Huntsville, and heaved a nifty article of baseball until the rotten support of his confederates took all the pep out of him. Wagner seemed to be the only man on the Huntsville team who had any desire whatsoever to win, and he is said to his credit that he worked like a Trojan and was kept busy as a janitor during the six frames he occupied the hill, as half of the put-outs made by Huntsville during the first six innings went by the strike-out route. After his team mates had booted practically every ball that came their way, or else stood calmly in their positions, and let hits fall safe, Wagner became imbued with the hunch that about the best thing on sale in Albany was a ticket back to Huntsville.

First hop out of the box the locals put over six runs on Williams' double, Hodges' free transportation, Halbrooks' double, singles by F. Barnes and Mitwede, and E. Barnes' rap to the fence for a duo of hassocks. The count was hefted to nine in the third verse when Norwood busted one to center and scored a second later on E. Barnes' second two-base crash to the fence. Barnes took third on a passed ball, then ukulele-ed across the pot on Williams' blow to right. Hodges then struck out, but Frohoff dumped one in front of the plate that was juggled, pitched, tossed, heaved and slung all around the field, Williams scoring during the upheaval. However, Halbrooks acted nicely and ladylike by smiting the ozone for a trio of whiffs, thus retiring the side amid the blessings and herculean sighs of relief of the visitors.

Frohoff singled in the sixth, but came to grief almost immediately trying to burglarize the keystone hassock. Halbrooks again punched holes in Kaiser Wilhelm-lum's atmosphere. F. Barnes walked, took second when Rogers was accommodating enough to let one of Wager's shoots escape, then registered at the plate on Mitwede's crash to center. "Dutch," however, perished in an attempt to steal second. Price went in to pitch for Huntsville in the seventh, doing very well in that frame save for Joe Norwood's double to the center field fence. In the last episode the entire local team batted around and four more scores were added to the "Y" total. Hodges rolled one to Price, who juggled badly. Frohoff walked, then Halbrooks added insult to injury by smashing the pill against the fence for a homer. F. Barnes went out, second to first. Dutch Mitwede then added his usual daily three-oagger when he fired a smack to right. Hill singled promptly, scoring Mitwede. Norwood also fired a one-base blow to center. E. Barnes flew out to center. Williams singled to right, filling the bases. Hodges hit to Price who caught Hill at the plate by a quick snap, thus ending the run-getting from a local point of view.

Huntsville had amassed one lone smack off Barnes up until the fifth inning. However, in this period three markers were added. Blanton opened up with a triple to center, chasing Norwood back against the fence. Lewis perished, Barnes to Hodges, but Wager poked a blow to center and Blanton scored. Sparkman lined out to Halbrooks. Watson singled to right and Wager scored. Brannum crashed one to short, and Halbrooks got his legs tangled up with the ball and it rolled to deep left. Watson scoring.

In the eighth the local outfield had a rainy day. Rogers lifted one to Frohoff who dropped it. Price skied out to Hill and he also dropped it. Westbrook beat out an infield hit. Blanton struck out, but Lewis and Wager singled in rapid succession scoring Rogers, Price and Westbrook. Sparkman ended the shin-dig by rapping to Williams who caught Wager in the base line, then heaved to Hodges, completing a snappy double play.

The locals amassed a total of 17 safe smacks off Wager and Price, but it was due largely to the indifferent fielding of the Huntsville outfield. With any kind of support at all, the "Y" clan would have had its work cut out, signed and sealed to have beaten Wager. There were practically no features to the game aside from the walloping tactics of the locals and the sensational fielding of Joe Norwood in center. This boy broke into the limelight on two different occasions with half-raising catches. He also garnered three safe swats to his credit.

Attention Property Owners

FOR RENT SIGNS are seldom seen hanging on a house that is equipped with a modern steam or hot water heating system. There must be a reason. Start out today to find a vacant office or a vacant residence that is steam or water heated and you will find every room taken. The owners of such buildings are reaping a steady income, and the tenants are contented. Why not try this little extra investment on your vacant house and keep it rented forever afterward? The after expense is practically nothing as the equipment will last as long as the building. Eventually they will all be heated. Why not start yours now? For full information and estimate, call

"Your Home Town Best Field For Investments"

"The fool and his money are soon parted" is synonymous to "Prosperous times bring their troubles." Today we find on every hand innumerable promotion and stock selling schemes, with but one purpose in view—to part the people from their surplus cash, ultimately leaving behind them a trail of regrets.

The ways of investors are varied and many. Stranger than fiction we find staid business men, learned professors and professional men, shrewd farmers, buying oil and gold mining stock, duped by a glib-tongued salesman into thinking they will receive fabulous dividends—they never come. A smaller tribe of investors play the stock market controlled by Wall street's blackboard, supremely happy when the market rises and falls, usually falls.

The wise investor buys real estate—land—something tangible, a nature-created article, on which he may erect a home or improve with a building which will net a revenue controlled only by himself, and not parcelled off by the vote of a board of directors.

If you have been favored by these prosperous times, think well before turning your money into a channel removed from your home town. Get this thought and keep it before you; you are in a better position to direct the spending of your money than another party.

First—Build a home, provide for the comfort and welfare of your family. A home is an asset, not a liability. It instills confidence in yourself, confidence in your city and inspires confidence in your neighbors and fellow citizens. A famous writer on economic subjects said: "Show me a city of home-owners and I will show you a prosperous, satisfied and progressive community."

Second—If you own your home, then buy a piece of ground and improve it with rental property, either for business or residence purposes. Consider the needs, both present and future, of your town and build accordingly. No man ever lost money by wise investments in real estate.

We again reiterate the statement—think well in these prosperous times of letting a third party spend your money. Invest it yourself; invest in your home town, in property which will enhance; enjoy its proceeds, whether it be the joys of a home or monthly rental from the revenue property. You and your city will be bettered thereby.

"Purposely Made For Every Purpose"

No matter what your paint or varnish requirements may be, either for outside or inside, on any kind of surface, you will find an article under the Lucas label particularly fitted for that need.

Lucas Paints

Purposely Made For Every Purpose

The name Lucas on a can of paint or varnish means that you can absolutely rely on it giving results claimed for it, if directions for its application are carefully followed.

Invest a few dollars in Lucas Paints and Varnishes and it will surprise you what a transformation you can work in and around your home.

Give us the opportunity of making some practical suggestions for your consideration, as well as giving you complete painting advice. It will put you under no obligation.
